Not only do you belong here, you ECHO

At UCLA Anderson, inclusion is not just a value, it is a practice. In a community of people with diverse backgrounds, identities and points of view, we champion one another's growth and success by being engaged, courageous, humble and open (ECHO).

You are eager to be at your best.
UCLA Anderson supports you.

How do we ECHO?

ENGAGED

We are engaged with one another, even when we do not agree.

COURAGEOUS

We are courageous in learning about views that sit outside of our comfort zones.

HUMBLE

We are humble in acknowledging the vast complexity of our diverse identities.

OPEN

We are open in expressing our authentic selves to one another.
